3. Introduction

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) place significant emphasis on sanitation, cleanliness and hygiene. There is evidence globally that better sanitation, hygiene and cleanliness help in effective control of various vector borne diseases, parasite infections and nutritional deficiencies. There have been studies linking cleanliness and hygiene with reduction in respiratory disorders, gastrointestinal diseases (especially diarrhea), psychological issues and allergic conditions.

Solid waste Management is the process of Collection, Transportation, Processing and Disposal of waste that are discarded after serving their intended purpose. It involves the management of waste collection, transportation, processing and disposal in a manner that best address. Public health, environment protection economic efficiency and aesthetic

SBM-U 2.0 will be implemented with a vision of achieving "Garbage Free" status for all cities. This will involve the following:

All households and premises segregate their waste into "wet waste" (from kitchen and gardens) and "dry waste" (including paper, glass, plastic, and domestic hazardous waste and sanitary waste wrapped separately) 100% door to door collection of segregated waste from each household/ premise.

3.1 Scope of the Project

The scope of work for supply of manpower in solid waste management will include a variety of tasks and responsibilities designed to ensure the efficient and effective handling of waste from collection and
